The image features two glasses of cocktails on a tray. The foreground glass is a textured, square glass containing a dark liquid, a large ice cube, several fresh raspberries, and a sprig of rosemary held in place by a wooden clothespin. A cinnamon stick is also visible in the drink. The background glass is similar but slightly out of focus. The entire scene is set against a dark background with numerous warm, yellow bokeh lights, suggesting a festive holiday atmosphere. The text is overlaid on the upper and lower portions of the image.
